Get to know our Staff

Ron Schaecher is the newest Building Inspector to our Inspections Department. He has been a licensed NC General Contractor for 14 years, a nine year Marine Corp and Army Veteran, and a graduate of East Carolina University with a BS in Construction Management. He brings a wealth of knowledge and skills to our community.

We are pleased to announce and welcome Shannon Dowdy as Permit Officer I at the mainland office. Shannon worked in customer service for a number of years and is a lifetime resident of Currituck County. Shannon will accept and process building permit applications and inspection requests.

Debbie Lashomb transferred to the Permit Officer III position on January 5, 2015. Debbie has been an employee with the department for more than 17 years. She brings experience and outstanding customer service skills to her new position. Debbie reviews residential construction plans and documents for zoning and flood compliance.

Please welcome our planner Jason Litteral to the Mainland Office. Jason worked in the Corolla Office and has assumed the position previously held by Brad Schuler.

County Corner

Currituck County would like to communicate with its citizens in the most effective way possible. Please complete the following questions to help Currituck County better serve your communication needs.

Corridor Clean Up

Lower Currituck Fire Department recently conducted a live burn on a dilapidated structure that had been condemned. Our local VFD's receive valuable training from these live burns. If you own a structure that is in a state of disrepair you may want to contact your local VFD to discuss if this option is available to assist you with removing the structure.
